

COUNTRY WATCH

Western Weekly:

12th September 2014

Colleagues,

Having just returned from leave I have been busy trying to catch up on everything I've missed, which appears to be quite a lot.

Some significant progress has been made in the Operation Biscotti murder investigation since our last newsletter with a total of 5 people having been arrested. I will update you with any significant developments over the coming weeks.

It appears there has been a small crime wave in the Bransgore area on the 8th September with many reports of suspicious persons that day/evening also. Good quality power tools still appear to be being targeted in these thefts. It really is worth security marking these items so that we can reunite them with their rightful owners when the culprits are caught, but also if we do catch someone running/driving away from the scene of the crime with tools that are marked we can prove they were stolen and from where.

This weekend is Romsey Show and myself and Scott from the Country Watch team, will be in attendance at the Countryside area. Please drop by and say 'hello' and come and sign up for Hampshire Alert if you haven't already.

Kind Regards

Debby Holman
Western Country Watch Sergeant
