

COUNTRY WATCH

Western Weekly:

15th May 2014

Colleagues,

Apologies for there being no newsletter last week, operational commitments prevented it. The team have been busy over the past fortnight with several operations including a speed enforcement day, an operation which was held at the pony sales and a joint agency operation with our partner agency, VOSA at New Park, Brockenhurst. A number of people were dealt with for various different offences as a result of these operations.

You will see from the details below that theft of tools from outbuildings, particularly insecure outbuildings is still the most frequent offence we see. Please ensure you lock up your sheds in between gardening forays.

Over the past month or so, across Hampshire, we have been seeing an increase in red diesel from rural premises. Please be aware of this and ensure you make it as difficult as possible for anyone to steal your diesel and report all suspicious incidents and vehicles to the police— please take the full registration number if you can and call 999 if the incident is ongoing at that time or 101 if you are reporting it afterwards.

We have had a few enquiries regarding CESAR marking for plant and machinery. We have been in contact with CESAR and although we have not managed to secure any external funding in the way we did last year, CESAR will visit and mark machinery at a cost of around £130 per vehicle. Please let me know Deborah.holman@hampshire.pnn.police.uk if you are interested in having anything marked and we will organise a marking day.

In the last newsletter, I mentioned the theft of a Shetland pony from the New Forest. I am happy to update you on this investigation that the pony has miraculously reappeared back with the rest of its herd following publicity and police enquiries.

Next Tuesday, 20th May, see's the 2014 Wickham Horse Fair taking place. The team will be linking up with our Northern Country Watch counterparts and together with RSPCA will be dealing with any animal welfare type issues which arise there,

Kind Regards

Debby Holman
Western Country Watch Sergeant
